

Why am I going back to church?

CBOQ Now is an opportunity to hear voices from within our Baptist family and beyond. It is a safe, easy listening space for the discussion of views, ideas, and issues.

As churches get back into the flow of meeting in person again, what are the essentials about our gatherings that we best not forget. Why do we meet? Is there something that belonging enables us to become more like Christ? Where does mission fit into our ethos and practice as we gather? What is the Holy Spirit seeking to do among us?

This video seeks to redress the balance of 'online worship'. You may also like to consider watching the next CBOQ Now in this series 'Mission: looking on the horizon' to give you clues as to the next steps that might follow after gathering for fellowship. Sign up here for the link.

Here are some questions to consider as you watch CBOQ Now 'Why should I go back to church?'

- What is the purpose of church?
- How can we see transformation in people at this moment?
- What is the motivation for inviting people to church?
- What are we inviting people back to?
- What opportunities are there for sharing meals in your church?